Inmar Names L. David Mounts to Serve as CEO

Winston-Salem, NC, March 8, 2010 — Inmar today announced that it has named L. David Mounts to serve as the company's chief executive officer. Mounts, currently executive vice president of supply chain for Domino's Pizza, will assume the role on April 1, 2010. Cynthia Tessien, Inmar's interim chief executive officer, will remain on the company's board of directors.

"Our search for a new leader has been focused and thorough," said Tessien. "David's experience and talents align perfectly with Inmar and complement those of the strong management team we have in place today. I look forward to working with David and our team to continue delivering industry leading solutions for our clients today and in the future."

In his role as Domino's executive vice president of supply chain services, Mounts led the nearly $1 billion division to significant growth in the core business and was instrumental in leveraging Domino's distribution, delivery and manufacturing infrastructure to serve new markets. Innovations with industry associations and partner companies to develop creative solutions in marketing and supply chain helped propel Domino's growth and customers.

Mounts also served as Domino's chief financial officer from 2005 to 2007. Prior to Domino's, Mounts held several senior executive-level positions during a nearly 23 year tenure at UPS, where he started in 1983 unloading trucks to help with college expenses. His positions included corporate controller, US Operations, CFO, UPS Supply Chain Solutions, and vice president, mergers and acquisitions.

Mounts also held multiple operations and financial positions in management in U.S., European and Asian operations. Mounts has an MBA from the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania; and a BSBA Dual Major in Finance and Management Information Systems from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

"Inmar is a great company, with a successful history delivering innovative solutions with outstanding client service," said Mounts. "It is a great honor to join Inmar's leadership team and have the opportunity to build on its success."
